

Murder on the Orient Express - New English American Theater

Step aboard the world's most famous train for an unforgettable journey of mystery, glamour, and murder!

Ken Ludwig's Murder on the Orient Express—based on Agatha Christie's classic 1930s whodunit—arrives as part of the Stuttgarter Kriminächte, performed in English by our community theater ensemble.

In this intimate, cabaret-style setting, the audience sits close enough to feel the suspense as legendary detective Hercule Poirot races to solve a shocking crime before the killer strikes again. Gone are the grand Broadway sets—our production brings the story to life through vivid storytelling, ingenious stagecraft, and richly detailed period costumes, designed to capture the elegance of a bygone age.

Join a train full of colorful characters, from glamorous travelers to secretive strangers, as the Orient Express thunders from Istanbul into the snowy mountains of Yugoslavia—where the journey comes to a deadly halt.

Expect tension, laughter, and theatrical magic in this stylish reimagining of one of the greatest mysteries ever written.

All aboard for an evening of intrigue, wit, and timeless suspense!
